

Dear Mr Alex Salmond,

19th November 2014

First of all I would like to thank you for your hard work for Scotland and its people. It must have been a disappointment regarding the outcome the Scottish Independence, albeit this has been an eye opener to those who have all along closed their eyes to politics and the views in Scotland.

After hearing several people on the radio talking about your service to Scotland, no one has mentioned the following points.

Because of your hard work, all Scottish students can go to University for free, no toll bridges, free school meals in some parts of Scotland, just to name a few.

As director of our local charity, we only just two months ago received news that the Scottish Government, has made law for the exemption of WATER RATES to charities in Scotland, which is a great achievement and support, of unfair UK taxes to charities, which are badly in need of monies.

During the Scottish referendum campaign, we have on a number of occasions approached our local Councillors, as many foreign nationals residing in Aberfeldy and surrounding towns and villages, were concerned, that if Scotland became Independent, they would lose their jobs, become homeless, and would have to leave Scotland. Uncertainty was also that Scotland would lose the Pound, Army and other securities, all of these started by the No campaigners against Scottish Independence.

As now Scotland is in the UK, the War Bill in the Middle East is rising, in Syria and Iraq; I do hope that if any Scottish soldiers will be deployed, in current and future conflict, the UK Government will compensate each family with at least £5 million for their loss. If injured for life £7.5 million for the remainder till death, just like the US Government is doing currently.

As you said in your farewell yesterday and confirmed by the new appointed SNP deputy leader, Scotland should become Independent, and let the Scottish people decide their own destiny. It is time we in Scotland do what is best for us living here, without Westminster.

Final note: Has David Cameron made concrete concessions to Scotland as promised to Scotland if we stayed in the UK? - It has gone very quiet, so maybe Nicola could ask for payment to Scotland of outstanding £5.8 Billion with 14% interest by 1st Jan 2017, money we very badly need?

Once again, thank you for serving Scotland and its people.

Best wishes,

Billy Chung
