Humanos Aid International, registered Scottish charity SC042807, is raising awareness regarding waste disposal of paint, kit, sealing materials, used by DIY'ers, and businesses in Aberfeldy and surrounding villages.

The charity is playing its part in reducing waste by re- recycling shoe boxes and bubble wrap and other materials. Just recently the charity has discovered, that paint, kit, sealing materials, some of which are very toxic chemicals, are heading into land refill, which surely is a very hard thing to understand.

Perth & Kinross Council has informed us, that it is very difficult to recycle these products, the costs are expensive to sub contract, and most likely there are no contractors in Perthshire doing this type of recycling. It also appears that SEPA is turning a blind eye, in letting P&KC just put all into land refill. This means, that the reduction of land refill with chemical waste will be growing, by several tons a year, and fly tipping has been reported by us to the Council, as the recycle centres do not accept paint and these products. Clients visiting the recycle centres, also in Aberfeldy have been informed that they have received written instructions not to accept paint, and are advised to put this in the wheelie bin at their homes. Certainly, this is a big problem, and the Council needs to address this issue with the greatest urgency.

Let's do it together, let's stop land refill of chemicals and non-degradable products, which are bad for our health and environment.

This would be a good idea to help save our planet and reduce land refill and waste in general.

Yours sincerely,
For Humanos Aid International
